The GreenWaste team arrived by 8:20am, and the trucks were positioned in their appropriate spaces. There was a small line of cars, patiently waiting for the clean-up to start.

After the safety huddle, we began letting cars in, promptly at 9am, to dump. Supervisors checked the loads of the vehicles coming in. Operations staff directed traffic throughout the site. Ramona and Viviana were positioned up front at check-in to verify the residents. There was a steady flow of cars from the start until the end of the event. Various residents came back and brought multiple loads. At 3PM sharp, the entrance was blocked off. There weren't any cars that had to be turned away.

The event ran safely and smoothly, and the residents were thankful for the event and our service. For the most part, residents did a great job bringing the appropriate material. The site was left as clean as when we first arrived.
